It is doubtful what has become of the transports with the 30,000 or more men who were embarked at Hiroshima. It seems probable however, that having been diverted from their original destination, owing to the result of the naval battle, they have been sent to reinforce the army of Ping-yang and Yi-chow. Be that as it may, the Japanese cannot attempt any 1. The Northern Cur. - Value, Tis. 100. landing on this coast until they have fought and destroyed the Chinese irouclads. Those ironclads, as well as the other Chinese men-of-war, are now ready again to dispute the mastery of the sea in Chinese waters.'-In spite of the dictum of the P. and T. Times the Japanese have landed in Chinese territory without waiting to fight and destroy the Chinese ironclads. This is another proof of the danger of being dogmatic during the progress of a war.

Ir is satisfactory to know that China is continuing to bring forward a trustworthy class of officers for her men-of-war (save the N.-C. Daily News.) The annual inspection and examination of the Imperial Naval College at Nanking has been postponed by H.E. the Viceroy till the end of the Chinese year, probably on account of the pressure of other public business. The college is in full operation with the usual number of cadets; and has been fortunate enough to secure the services of Lieutenant H. V. Simpson, R.N., who has been added to the staff of Professors. His special work is to teach the duties of young naval officers to the cadets who have graduated, and to carry on their instruction in the training. ship which it is expected will be available for service some time next year. The questions for the final examination of the advanced class were set in May last by the Rev. J. E. S. Mason, M.A., Chaplain and Naval Instructor of H.M.S. Centurion, at the Viceroy's request, and with the consent of Admiral Fremantle, who appointed Captain H. A. Philipps, H.M.S. Pigmy, to go to the college from Chinkiang and superintend the proceedings in person. The results have proved highly satisfactory to all parties concerned. It is gratifying to know that Mr Mason's report agrees closely in all essential particulars with that of the previous annual examination conducted by Dr J. Fryer, as the following extract will show: - I have been much interested in examining and marking these worked papers. I consider them to be exceedingly well done. They are wonderfully good with regard to style, neatness, and clearness, as well as with regard to correctness of working and accuracy of the answers. These results certainly show great method and ability on the part of the instructor, and great attention and capability on the part of the students. Papers worked by our own boys would not be generally better done. I have marked them just in the same way as I should have marked our own. I should have liked to keep some of these papers as a sample of what can be done in a foreign language by clover and diligent students.

On the remaining Sundays of October there were a total of 108 steamers in port of which 19 arrived on Sunday. In the month of September 168 steamers were in port on Sundays, and of these 29 arrived on the Sunday. Similar statistics can be drawn from every other month in the year. I need only remark that in all these cases, the officers and seamen were in a position to benefit by the Sunday Labour Ordinance.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE WAR.

A JAPANESE OPINION. On the 23rd inst. we published a telegram from our Special War Correspondent, to the effect that documents had been laid before the Japanese Diet fully exculpating Japan on the charge of precipitating hostilities. The Japan Mail of the 22nd inst. publishes the documents, and comments as follows:

We publish to-day authorized copies of (lovernments in Peking and Tokyo immediately before the breaking out of the present war, and that were laid by Count Ito before the House of Peers on the 19th instant. The despatches cover the period from June 7th to July 14th. The gist of their contents has already been made known to the public but will now, doubtless, receive predence not hitherto extended to it. On the previous day two foreigners had measured out a piece of ground about a mile in circumference. In seven different places they had chosen level spots to draw mysterious circles; in the centre of each circle they dug a small hole, and sunk a sinister looking canister in each hole. Fortunately information of these proceedings reached the General in charge of the defences of this port, and when next day four foreigners appeared on the ground, and placed a small flag on each level spot, General Gyiang rode out with his officers. and halting about 200 yards off the nearest foreigner, sent one of the officers to see what the foreigners were doing. the Balmoral Gold Mining Co., Gentlemen.—I beg to submit herewith a statement showing the manner in which the affairs of the Company have been

A working account for the period from 30th September, 1891 (the time when the Company was obliged to shut down) to 2nd April, 1894, (which is the date of the last accounts received from Mr Farrier, the person in charge prior to Mr Henderson taking possession on behalf of the new Company) is attached, showing as nearly as possible the monies received and spent during that time by the manager. The work carried on consisted merely of grinding of tailings and of tributers' work, and although the earnings were saddled with extravagant use of fuel, heavy cartage, charge of the mines and one for the battery, gayety to an extent which has not been and the wages of two managers. one in ontside of the ordinary battery wages. there is for this long period only a small loss of $3,822.85. SINKING OF THE 'EOWSHING.'-EVIDENCE WHICH JUSTIFIES THE ACTION OF JAPAN. London, Sept. 25.—The Central News has information that Captain Galsworthy, the commander of the Chinese transport. Kowshing, has stated under oath that the charter of the Kowshing to the Uhinese Government contained a clause, to be kept secret, that in the event of a hostile movement against the ship by the Japanese the Kowshing should be regarded as Chinese property. EMPEROR WILLIAM AND THE WAR. Berlin, Sept. 29.—Emperor William is taking the most lively interest in the Korean war. Daily reports of all the war news are submitted to his Majesty, and by the aid of the best maps and charts producable he carefully traces the progress of the combatants. The Emperor studies every movement in its most minute detail paying particular attention to the naval engagements, as they have furnished the first tests, on a large scale, of the use which modern monster ironclads can be put to. A WAR RUMGUR.

London, Sept. 30.—A dispatch to the Times from Frankfort says the London correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung telegraphs that he has learned from an excellent source that Japan, if she is victorious over China, intends to divide China into three independent Kingdoms. which will be placed under the rule of native Princes, one of whom will be Li Hungchang. If necessary, Japan will call a conference of the powers to decide the matter.

BUMOUR THAT THE QUEEN INTENDS TO

London, September 29.—Queen Victoria's rhoumatism is worse. At the present time Her Majesty of England goes up and down stairs in a litter and is relled about her rooms in a vehicle which resembles an enlarged baby carriage. Specialists say it is rhoumatic gout. Rumour suggests that it is dropsy, and those people who know

The Queen's illness brings prominently to the front again the question, will not Her Majesty abdicate in favour of her son. the Prince of Wales? The court gossips say that on the 9th of November next, the birthday of the Prince of Wales, the announcement of Her Majesty's retirement will be made in favour of her eldest son. who will be acclaimed as Edward VII. This assertion may simply be a hope, which is father to desire, but it is certain that such an act on the part of the venerable lady who for fifty-seven years and more has been the nominal ruler of the mighty empire upon which the sun never sets, would be extremely popular and earn the most unquelified approvel among and from all classes of her subjects, whether Sootch, Irish, or Canadian. Queen Victoria is 78 years old, an age when one can well understand that she might be only too willing to free herself entirely from all trammels, even of such feeble responsibility as the British monarch now possesses. The Prince of Wales is 58. and, therefore no longer young, and so it is about time he had some taste of his natural heritage."

A court presided over by a man who is so thoroughly esteemed at present by his countrymen, and would continue to be so by his subjects, with a Queen who is justly regarded as the most beloved Princess in Europe and by the young Prince and young Princess of Wales, provided with a future Prince of Wales in the shape of a healthy and robust baby, would really give an impetus to trade and revive social enjoyed in England since the days when the Queen and Prince Consort were a young married couple with a nursery full of toddling infants.
